Help your car keep that showroom finish.

One of the best things about your new car is that dazzling showroom shine. Sadly, that dazzling shine can fade, affecting your vehicle's appearance.

Outside factors like sun, salt, and bird droppings can damage your paint and inside factors can pile on with stains, odors, and rips in your leather or fabric upholstery. These things can be expensive to repair and they can tarnish your car's resale value.

On the outside, the Appearance Protection chemical penetrates your vehicle's clear coat to create a barrier against harmful elements. It also helps prevent brake dust stains on your alloy wheels and dulling of your headlight lenses. On the inside, the Appearance Protection chemical helps preserve your upholstery and carpets, and helps protect against stains from spilled drinks, pets, ink, and crayons.

The confidence to weather the road ahead
